

European Union Chemicals Regulations – REACH

Under the terms of the REACH regulations, the electronic components that Astute Electronics Ltd distribute (primarily semiconductors, passive products, electromechanical parts and cabling) are referred to as 'Articles'. As there is no intended 'release of substance' from these Articles, we have no need to register our activities with ECHA. We are not considered a manufacturer or downstream user of the products.

We are aware of our responsibility to pass-on pertinent information relating to the manufacture of these devices, when communicated to us by the component manufacturers themselves, and commit to abide by this request to the best of our ability.

For further information on Astute's position within the REACH regulations, please contact ian.fantham@astute.co.uk.